Team Computing Australia Appointed Reseller for IRIS Business Software

SYDNEY, NSW, AUSTRALIA, (February 1, 2008)

IRIS, the largest UK privately owned specialist software business, has formalised an agreement with Team Computing to be a reseller partner of their Chorus ERP, and TALENT ebusiness software. IRIS has an exceptional reputation for delivering market leading solutions to a customer base of over 8,000 organisations. They are a leading provider of accounting, ERP, payroll and HR systems, in addition to being the No.1 provider in the UK to accountancy, legal, and not-for-profit firms.

Team Computing sells and supports proven, award-winning software for small to medium distributors and manufacturers in Australia, and is a leading value added reseller (VAR) of the IBM System i (iSeries), as well as PCs, networks, and servers all the way up to mainframe-class systems.

CEO of Team Computing, Peter Sanderson said, "Team was formed with the aim of providing outstanding customer service through the very best IT solutions based upon client's needs. We chose to partner with IRIS because it's an exceptional business with strong positions in key vertical markets, brought about by delivering high quality software combined with market leading levels of customer service.

"Chorus ERP and TALENT ebusiness significantly expands our range of high quality, market leading solutions. Chorus is perfect for small to medium Australian distributors and manufacturers, whilst TALENT ebusiness is an intelligent 'web shop' package, suitable for B2B and retails sales. As such we see excellent opportunities for further growth in the Asia/Pacific region."

"IRIS and their business solutions meet our vision to provide world-class products and support to our customers."
